

Bloomington Public Schools Elementary Charging Guidelines

Students at Pullman and Bloomington Elementary Schools will receive one free reimbursable breakfast and lunch every day at school. If a student wants just milk, then they are responsible for the cost of that milk. Once a student has a negative balance of $5 due to milk purchases then that student will not be able to purchase milk until the balance is paid. However, the student will be allowed to receive their one free reimbursable breakfast and lunch every day which includes a milk.

The food service department will notify parents of negative milk account balances throughout the school year.

A student with negative accounts that are inactive will be held accountable according to the Bloomington Public Schools Bad Debt Guidelines.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider.
